

Tina Descovich

Tina Descovich has a long record of fighting for students and parental rights in Florida, and at the national level. She was elected to the Brevard County, FL school board in 2016. She was selected by her peers in 2017 to serve as Vice Chairman, and as Chairman in 2018. While on the school board she was a member of The Florida Coalition of School Board Members and served as the organization's president in 2018.

In 2021, Tina co-founded Moms for Liberty, a national nonprofit that works to unify, educate and empower parents to defend their parental rights. Tina has also served her community in many ways as a member of the local Zoning & Planning Board, and the Citizens Advisory Council. Additionally, she has served on several nonprofit boards that are aimed at helping children, including AMIkids, the Children's Hunger Project and Sally's Friends, a guild to support a home for pregnant women in recovery from addiction.

As a graduate of Valdosta State University with bachelor's degree in communication, Tina worked as a consultant on projects ranging from helping fast growing startup companies, to creating and implementing strategic and communication plans. She served on the executive planning team for the National Air, Space and Sea Foundation planning airshows and on the executive staff for the United States Army Commanding General of the Combined Arms Support Command and Fort Lee.

Tina and her husband Derek have five children. She is passionate about America and is dedicated to protecting liberty and freedom for the future of all children.
