

Ed H. Moore, Ph.D.

Ed H. Moore, Ph.D., is the President-Emeritus of the Independent Colleges and Universities of Florida, a Tallahassee based association of 30 private, not for profit colleges and universities. He led the Association from 2003 until 2019. He also served as the Executive Director of the Higher Education Facilities Finance Authority in Florida and as Chief Executive Officer of the Florida Independent College Fund, a non-profit organization. He is a principle partner in All Things Florida Consulting, LLC.

Over his career he has served in leadership roles in both legislative and executive branches, in the private sector and in several not for profit organizations. He is a recognized policy expert. He has served in many significant positions in a wide array of policy arenas, including education, insurance, healthcare, mental health, criminal justice, and many other areas. As Florida recovered from Covid related issues he was asked to serve as Executive Director of the RESET Florida Task Force, helping to develop action plans to bolster the Florida economy.

Ed is a regular commentator on the Ed Dean Show and a monthly contributor to The Morning Show with Preston Scott. He is a columnist for FloridaDaily.Com and is often on television and radio as a frequent panelist. Ed serves on a number of boards and commissions, among which are the Florida Capital Hospital Board of Trustees, and The Historic Capitol Foundation Board of Directors.

He has been married to Kathleen Armstrong Moore for 48 years. They have four adult children and seven wonderful grandchildren. They reside in Tallahassee.
