

Joseph Oglesby

Joseph Oglesby is a Tallahassee based Project Manager focused on emergency response and disaster recovery.

Since moving to Tallahassee, Joseph has served in state government as Bureau Chief of Recovery with the Division of Emergency Management and as Deputy Director of the Office of Long-Term Resiliency at the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity, now FloridaCommerce. He was also employed as a Manager with Forensics and Integrity Services at Ernst and Young.

Joseph grew up in Monroeville, Alabama and is a graduate of Auburn University. Upon graduation, Joseph worked in his family's businesses. His interest in public service led him to run for public office where he served as a City Councilman and the Mayor of Monroeville, Alabama.

Joseph resides in Tallahassee with his wife, Emilie, and their two children.
